

So, you want to be a missionary?!

Desley and Hannah Bailey want to be missionaries.

Come and hear them tell of their recent rewarding and sometimes confronting experiences as a mother and daughter, volunteering as medical missionaries, in the volatile, ravaged, dangerous and fragmenting country of Kenya. Their story of challenge and God's blessing and protection is one that will inspire and move you.

Listen to them tell their story – The Least of These My Brethren - Reflections from Kenya

Desley Bailey and 14 year old daughter Hannah were blessed, but deeply challenged, by their experiences in Kenya as medical missionaries.

They met many, many people whose lives have been scarred by unspeakable wartime and cultural atrocities, but who have purposed to forgive and live with resolve, and to hope in God's goodness.

What lessons can we learn from their experience? Come and find out for yourself!
